PLAN LONG JOURNEY ACROSS CONTINENT

Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to Visit Many Cities.

A three weeks' trip to the Coast in July will be taken by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, according to a decision reached at its meeting yesterday. Instead of holding their midsummer meeting in any one city, the directors decided to visit in a body Pacific Coast cities, both for the purpose of study of business opportunities and to stimulate the interest in the national commercial organization. It is expected that nearly all the directors will take the trip.

The directors yesterday also extended their re-organization to the Southern Commercial Congress in its organization of a commission to study abroad the systems of rural credit in vogue in the old countries. It was resolved to participate in this movement.

Fifteen new organizations have been admitted to membership in the national organization. They include:

Chamber of Commerce of Spokane, Wash.; the Commercial Club of Muskogee, Okla.; the Commercial Club of Philadelphia; National League of Commissioners of the United States of New York; Board of Trade and Merchants' Exchange, of Portsmouth, N. H.; Business Men's Association, of Woonsocket, R. I.; Association National de Producteurs de Cafe, of Ponce, Porto Rico; National Association of Master Bakers, Philadelphia; Board of Trade, of Holyoke, Mass.; and Chamber of Commerce, of Gainesville, Fla.

With the addition of these organizations the constituent membership of the National Chamber numbers 297 bodies, with a total membership of more than 15,000 firms and individuals.

MEDALS FOR CURTISS AND GUSTAVE EIFFEL

Smithsonian Institution to Honor Men Who Have Done So Much for Aeronautics.

Medals will be awarded to Gustave Eiffel and Glenn H. Curtiss by the Smithsonian Institution on Langley day, May 6, in connection with the annual meeting of the Washington Aero Club.

This announcement was made yesterday, following the February meeting of the board of regents of the institution. Mr. Eiffel will be honored for having advanced the science of aerodynamics by his researches relating to the resistance of the air in connection with aviation.

Mr. Curtiss will be honored for having advanced the science of aerodynamics by his researches relating to the resistance of the air in connection with aviation.

Announcement was made of the reappointment of Judge Gray as a citizen regent for six years. Resolutions of thanks were tendered to Mrs. Edward H. Hartman for a set of Edward S. Curtiss work on North American Indians, and to John B. Henderson, Jr., for a flying cage for birds at the National Zoological Park.

The will of the late Morris Loeb was read, in which he makes a conditional provision for a chemical type museum under the National Museum, and for a residuary bequest to the institution to be used "for the furtherance of knowledge in the exact sciences."

Chief Justice White, chancellor of the institution, presided, and the other regents present were Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Senator Augustus O. Bacon, Representative John D. Russell, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, Judge George Gray, Charles F. Choate, Jr., and John B. Henderson, Jr.

Sights mounted on sliding extensions, to give the user of an automatic piston a better aim, have been patented by an Englishman.

New Vegetables and Fruits in Markets

Spring has arrived in market and signs of "new" things, meaning this year's crop of vegetables, are seen on all sides. There are potatoes, cabbage, radishes, peas, several kinds of beans, and beets, all designated "new" on alluring cards on the stalls. The strangeness of the seasons is no place more manifest than at the places where eatables are sold. It is mid-April there despite the calendar.

The "new" peas are the freshest looking things in a host of verdant edibles. The sweetness of the peas is far superior to that of the canned sort.

Lettuce and celery seem fairly plentiful although the dealers complain that they have to get the lettuce all the way from New Orleans.

Exhibit, which is in season all the year around, is coming in from the ripening crops of the South. Each plant is carefully wrapped in tissue paper and offered for sale in this casing.

Winter beets are quite crowded out by the new beets with their fresh green tops which are already arriving.

Spinach and other greens don't vary much as the seasons change. This is the time of the year when everybody seems to want greens, and now is the time when they are most plentiful.

There are lots of little garnishes among the new things. The small red button radishes, long spring onions, cucumbers, and watercress.

Tomatoes at the stores are almost as plentiful to-day as in the good old summer time.

Both the golden wax and the green string beans are seen at the market that sell the newest things.

Cynillings, which will come along toward the end of our home crops, are here with the other Southern products.

Strawberries hold the place of honor on the fruit stalls. They are remarkably edible looking for such early comers. They are really red, and their flavor is not half so tart as one might expect.

Grapefruit was never more abundant here, and the prices never lower. Pineapples and oranges are plentiful.

Southern Commercial Congress' Plan to Study European Systems Receives Commendation.

The President, the President-elect, and a former President have all cordially endorsed the foreign commission of the Southern Commercial Congress, which will tour Europe for three months, leaving the United States April 25 to study European systems of agriculture, finance, and agricultural co-operation.

President Taft, President-elect Wilson, and former President Roosevelt have written letters to Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, president of the Southern Commercial Congress, giving their hearty endorsement to the coming tour of the foreign commission. These letters were given out yesterday by Dr. Clarence J. Owen, managing director of the Southern Commercial Congress.

"The entire system of agricultural business which is practiced by the farmers of the United States needs to be greatly improved, in view of the failure of our food supply to keep pace with the increasing population," Dr. Owen declared.

ANACOSTIA SCHOOLS NEED NEW HALLS

Citizens' Association Also Wants Religious Services Over Remains of Unidentified Dead.

The school committee of the Anacostia Citizens' Association, of which Dr. R. A. Pyles is chairman, is to make an effort to have assembly halls provided in both of the local public school buildings, the Van Huren and the Ketcham.

The committee claims that such assembly halls should be provided, and that it is possible to do so with but little expense. At the Ketcham School, a large assembly hall was placed on the third floor of the building, but the stairway leading to it is not of fireproof construction, and for this reason the authorities will not permit the room to be used. It is desired that a fireproof stairway be provided here.

Place N. B. Crowell, principal of the Van Huren School, has offered the suggestion that it would be possible to utilize the third floor in the annex of this school for an assembly hall and the committee is to work along this line.

The February meeting of the Men's Social Club of Emmanuel Episcopal Church was held last evening in the parish hall, with Franklin S. Glocker, president, in the chair.

At the March meeting of the Anacostia Citizens' Association the officers who are to serve for the ensuing year will be inducted into office. It has been called to the attention of the association that persons who die in the District, and are carried to the morgue, and whose bodies are there unidentified, are buried without any ceremony whatever. The association feels that every person is entitled to a decent burial, and will request the Commissioners, in cases of this kind, to select some Washington clergyman to officiate at such burials.

Funeral services were held yesterday for three-year-old Edna Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton, of Nichols Avenue, Anacostia, whose death occurred a few days ago as a result of burns which the child sustained by upsetting a pot of boiling coffee.

MAINE NOT FORGOTTEN.

The fifteenth anniversary of the blowing up of the Maine in Havana Harbor will be observed by services to be held Saturday night in the Metropolitan M. E. Church, C Street and John Marshall Place. Rev. James Sherris Montgomery, pastor of the church, will conduct the services, which have been arranged under the auspices of the National Maine and William McKinley Memorial and Monument Union League. Invitations have been extended to President Taft, the Cabinet, all the members of Congress and the officers of the army, navy and Marine Corps. The general public is also invited.

The object of the league is to raise funds for the erection in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, of a memorial to the men who went down with the Maine.

Finicky Appetites Put in Order

You Can Sit Right Down and Eat Anything Served if You Get Acquainted with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

With a most pathetic sigh the dyspeptic sits down and "views with alarm" his digestive organs as being powerless—they are not for most people to hand out to suffering stomachs is to couple a square meal with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. To sit down to a good meal and eat what is served is getting back to the good old days when grand-dad carried the roast; when the family meat-and-vegetable diet was simple and sound; when digestion produced the men and women of the elements which will do the work of the world.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the dyspeptic's hope. They are a natural restorative of healthy action to the stomach and small intestine, because they supply the elements that the weak stomach lacks—pepsin, golden seal, and other digestive.

"If you are afflicted with any symptoms of stomach trouble, be assured that your digestive organs are losing power—they need help and there is no more sensible help to be given them than to supply the elements which will do the work of digestion for them."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been found by one of Stuart's Druggists to be a grain of the active principle of these tablets being sufficient to digest a whole meal.

That no matter what the condition of your stomach, or how far your disease has progressed, one of Stuart's Druggists taken at bedtime will do the work—give your stomach an opportunity to regain its lost power, the muscles will be strengthened, the glands invigorated, and you will be a new man.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at 10 cents a box.
